LO! THE POOR INDIAN.

His Future Still Uncertain.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—The vote taken by the joint committee on the transfer of the Indian Bureau to the War Department, which resulted in a tie—standing 4 to 4—indicates that the struggle between the military and the civil administration of Indian affairs will be obstinate.

The recent spirited correspondence between General Sheridan and Secretary Schurz has contributed largely to bring about this antagonism, and neither party will surrender until they are driven entirely from the field.

Already the Senators and members have taken sides in this controversy, and its adherents are as determined on this subject as in the old political struggles on the slavery question. The reports are very elaborate and exhaustive on both sides, and they are expected to be submitted this week.

The vote standing a tie in committee, the Indian management remains where it is. It is therefore safe to infer that no concurrent action will be reached on this important question at this session.

Senator Conkling and the Administration.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—The actual status of the controversy between Senator Conkling and the Administration, in regard to the New York nominations, seems to be entirely misunderstood. The President's letter, which was prepared by Secretary Sherman, apparently made against the deposed custom-house officers, and those in the Senate who were disinterested were inclined to sustain the secretary.

The replies, however, of these officers, as the details have become known, and the official correspondence and other documents which were submitted to the committee, have materially changed the aspect of affairs.

The four Democrats on the committee, in conversing with their colleagues in the Senate, have stated that Secretary Sherman had and that the case as it stands before the committee is overwhelming in favor of the deposed officers, and should these documents be made public, as they probably will be by the removal by the Senate of the injunction of secrecy, it would be very difficult for the Democrats to sustain themselves in support of the position taken by Secretary Sherman.

Amongst these documents are numerous official letters from the Treasury Department, which show that they had and secretary in the demand for the appointment of persons belonging to their own state, and that the use of their officers in political interests was under the direction of these gentlemen.

These facts becoming known to the senators have fatally damaged the cause of the President, and it is doubtful now whether any effort will be made to defend the action of the Administration. It is intimated that Secretary Sherman has requested copies of the reply of these officers for his investigation, to enable him to answer them.

WRIGHT'S UTOPIA.

A Plan for the Tramps.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—Hendrick B. Wright's bill to give workingmen a farm, $500 and a mule came up as the regular order this morning in the House, and he asked the indulgence of the House to make a short speech. Martin Townsend objected. "I appeal to the gentleman from New York," said Wright, "to allow me to make my speech." "Your appeal is denied," replied Townsend. Hale suggests that Wright might move to suspend the rules and thus get an opportunity to make his speech, which suggestion he adopted and the House consented. Wright consumed considerable time in selecting an available stand from which to make his speech. Mr. Chittenden, of Brooklyn, suggested that he go to the Speaker's desk. Whereupon Wright told Chittenden to mind his own business. Wright finally got fixed and proceeded to make the oration the House has heard from him several times in behalf of the workingmen and was frequently interrupted by shouts of laughter and applause.

THE SETTLEMENT BILL KILLED.

The House disposed of Hendrick B. Wright's bill for the government to give every person who would go West a farm and then loan him $500 to buy farming implements, taking as security a mortgage on the farm. The Democrats were ungenerous enough not to stand by Wright and his measure was overwhelmingly defeated, receiving but 22 votes, while the nays were 212. Among those who voted for it were S. S. Cox, Gen. Butler, Wm. D. Kelley, Hanna, Erritt, Luttrell, Rainey and Snyder.

Senator Christiancy Going to Peru.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—The reports that Senator Christiancy has decided to resign his seat in the Senate to accept the Peruvian mission are true. The President has formally tendered him the position and he has accepted it. The change is now only a matter of time and would take place at once if it was not for the fear that the Republican majority in the Senate would be imperilled. Another reason for the delay is Senator Christiancy's apprehension concerning his confirmation. The Peruvian mission is now held by Richard Gibbs, of New York, who was appointed in 1875. The salary is $10,000 per year and the duties of the office are not very laborious.

The Cipher Despatches.—A Republican Bargain Brought to Light.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—Mr. Green's testimony before the Potter Committee this afternoon made a sensation. He declared that he was instructed by President Orton to burn certain despatches between Postmaster-General Tyner and Minister Foster to a political nature relating to the sale of an office. He read the despatches, and their contents showed that a bargain had been consummated. The Republican members claimed that the matter was irrelevant.

The Pacific Railroad Cases.—Decision Against the Roads.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—The Supreme Court today rendered a decision in the Pacific Railroad cases. They affirm that part of the decision of the Court of Claims that the road was completed in 1869, and not in 1874, and that net earning does not include interest on bonds. The decision on both points is against the railroads.

CABLE DESPATCHES.

Startling Reports from Constantinople.—Alarming and Rapid Spread of the Plague in Russia.

LONDON, January 27.—A number of extraordinary and startling reports have just been received from Constantinople and St. Petersburg. They are from sources which have generally been trustworthy. One of them is that Said Pasha has been imprisoned. Another that Sultan Mourad is lying dangerously ill and it is thought that he also has been poisoned. Great excitement prevails in Constantinople, and it is believed that in the event of the death of the Sultan there will be a fierce popular commotion.

The other despatches relate to the advance of the plague into Russia and their purport is very alarming. One despatch states that Mrs. Fowler, an English lady, has died in Moscow of the plague. All accounts agree in stating that the fearful disease is advancing with much rapidity and that all attempts to stop its course have thus far proved futile.

SHOCKING TRAGEDY IN MAINE.

Three Persons Killed by a Lunatic.—The Murderer Shot by a Farmer.

BOSTON, Jan. 27.—At Montville, fifteen miles from Belfast, Maine, on Saturday evening, John McFarland, a respectable farmer, and his wife and granddaughter, were murderes by one Rowell, an insane man. Mrs. McFarland was shot by a gun and the others were killed by having their brains beaten out. The murderer was afterwards shot and killed by a neighbor, whom he had attacked.

PURCHASE OF JERUSALEM.

The project proposed some time since in Great Britain by leading Jews of the country to buy Palestine is said to have been completed. The Rothschilds, Montefiores and other prominent and wealthy financiers have entire confidence, it is reported, in the success of the undertaking, and are moving energetically towards its early achievement. The secretary of the association formed wholly for the purpose, who is, by the by, a Christian in creed, says that the Jews of the whole world seem to be in sympathy with the plan, and will do their utmost, individually and collectively, to further it. Those familiar with Palestine will not regard it as specially desirable, for its main features are not very attractive. It is not an extensive country—not more than 145 miles long and 45 miles broad, on an average—and ought to be bought cheap. The plain of Philistia is its best part, the soil being of rich brown loam, without a stone. It is now, as it has always been, a vast grain-field—an ocean of wheat without a brook or fence. Its extraordinary fertility is shown by the fact that it has produced the same succession of crops year after year for 40 centuries without artificial aid. Many tourists have such numberless associations with Palestine that they have idealized prodigiously; but to a man who views it without bias it is a dreary, disagreeable land, its undulating surface, rounding hills separated by narrow glens, and its crevasses striking the eye monotonously and unpleasantly. So much has been said for generations of the Jews regaining possession of Jerusalem, that it is agreeable to think that they are likely to do so at last. They certainly deserve Jerusalem.

GENERAL ASSEMBLY.

JANUARY SESSION AT PROVIDENCE.

MONDAY, JAN. 27.

SENATE.

At 11 o'clock this morning there was but a "beggarly account" of Senators present, and after waiting a few minutes it was decided there was no prospect of a quorum, and the Senate therefore adjourned until Tuesday morning.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

The House met at eleven o'clock, as usual, Mr. Speaker Potter in the chair.

Mr. E. C. Clarke gave notice of his intention to introduce an act for the relief of savings banks and their depositors, being an act in amendment of Chapter 140 of the General Statutes.

Mr. Amos Thomas gave notice of his intention to introduce an act regulating tolls for passengers and freight on the railroads of this state.

Mr. Payne introduced an act concerning manufacturing corporations, which was read and referred to the committee on Corporations. It proposes radical changes in the laws governing such corporations, particularly in the matter of the individual liability of stockholders and directors for company debts.

Mr. Congdon introduced a resolution inviting the Hon. Senate to join in Grand Committee tomorrow at 12 M., to elect Shell-fish Commissioners. Adopted.

Mr. Cooke, of Warren, gave notice of his intention to introduce an act amending Chapter 482 of the Public Laws, "Of where and to whom property is taxable." He also gave notice that a hearing notified for tomorrow, on a kindred subject, was postponed to Thursday at 1 o'clock.

Adjourned to Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock.

PERSONALS.

..... P. S. Gilmore will head the band at Manhattan Beach next summer.

.....Hanlan, the Canadian oarsman, has gone to Europe with David Ward.

.....Judge Hunt of the United States Supreme Court has improved somewhat.

.....Mrs. George Bancroft's "Mondays" are the most interesting of all the Washington receptions.

.....Miss Kate Field has taken a furnished house in London in partnership with Mr. and Mrs. Hennessy and other Americans.

.....Signor Brignoli has been at the Revere House, Boston, ill with diphtheritic sore throat for a week. He has now gone to New York.

.....The Princess Louise must have suffered from the cold at Niagara Falls, the other day, when she played whist in a "black silk robe, with low neck and short sleeves."

.....Miss Clara Louise Kellogg has decided to retire from the opera field, and her last appearance in opera in Boston will be at her benefit on Feb. 14th, at the Boston Theatre.

.....Governor Marks of Tennessee, has voluntarily relinquished $1000 of his salary, and there is a bill before the Legislature to abolish the salary of the office of Attorney-General.

.....Olive Logan says that the duchesses, marchionesses, and other noble ladies who write to her by penny-post, can't spell and don't understand grammar, although they are charming in face, form and manner.

.....A letter from Dublin states that while in Ireland Gen. Grant was constantly shadowed by a Dublin detective, who expected to discover evidence that Gen. Grant was the fenian head-centre of the United States.

.....Postmaster-General Key is a good deal of a woman's rights man. He says a great number of women have been appointed to small offices in the past four years, and they do the business in first-class shape.

.....Albert Pike, the soldier-poet, who was better known to the last generation than he is nowadays, is organizing the "Society of the Cactus," to be composed of Mexican war veterans, who will bequeath the order to their male descendants.

.....A reunion of the Dodge family in America is called by William E. Dodge of New York and other representatives, to meet in Salem, July 10, that being the 250th anniversary of the landing of William Dodge of Salem. All who bear the name of Dodge in the United States are invited.

GLEANINGS AND GOSSIP.

Advertising is the oil which the tradesmen put in their lamps.

Bark grows thickest on the north side of trees; thus, in a forest, to tell which is north, girdle a tree.

On the Pacific coast the average attendance of Chinese boys and girls upon the Protestant Sunday-schools is 1,000.

The successful hatching of cod at Gloucester makes the United States a pioneer in the artificial hatching of deep-sea fish.

There are said at the present time to be about 125,000 Quakers in all the world, of whom 100,000 are in the United States.

A vacuum automatic brake lately tested in England will stop in three hundred yards a train running at sixty miles an hour.

A piece of brush thrown into an oyster bed near New London eighteen months ago was recently taken out with about thirty bushels of bivalves clinging to it.

Despite the unhappy experience of her passengers on the first trip, the Azor will sail for Liberia again on the 20th prox., with 175 passengers and an assorted freight.

A woman in Sacramento has a land-turtle for a pet and has beautifully carved and polished its shell, which she strokes fondly and gently, the animal expressing its satisfaction by purring like a cat.

New York fashionables make as brilliant a display of sleighs as they do of carriages, and it is to be noted that the old-fashioned sleighs have given place almost entirely to Russian or Canadian affairs that are nothing if not conspicuous.

A recent writer says that the best remedy for bleeding at the nose consists in the vigorous motion of the jaws, as in the act of mastication. In the case of a child a wad of paper should be placed in its mouth, and the child should be instructed to chew it hard.

Mr. Nathan Lyon, of St. Paul, said that Misses Emma Faber and Mary Hendricks were too proud to stoop to the duties of farmer's daughters, and promised them each a $50 silk dress if they would drive or lead a cow through the streets of the Minnesota metropolis. Accordingly at high noon Miss Faber took the cow in two with Miss Hendricks, armed with a broomstick, acting as rear-guard, and thus they escorted the animal down Third street and earned their silk dresses.

"I WISH HE HAD LIVED."

The other day when a burly big driver of a coal cart backed his vehicle up to the alley gate of an old house in Detroit to dump out half a ton of coal, some children came out of a side door, and the driver beckoned them near and said:

"Last time I was here one of the wheels crushed a bit of a dog belonging to one of you. I heard a great crying out, but I can't be stopping to look out for dogs on the street."

The children made no reply, but as they watched him unload the cart they wondered if he had little children of his own, and if he ever spoke kindly to them. He may have felt the burden of their thoughts, for suddenly he looked up and said:

"Well, I own I'm a bit sorry, and being as I knew as I was coming up, I brought along an orange to give to the child who owned the dog. Which of you is it?"

"The dog belonging to little lame Billy in that house there," answered the girl. "It was all the dog he had ever had, and when you killed it he cried himself almost to death. He didn't never have any plaything but that little dog."

"And will you take him this orange?"

"I can't, sir, 'cos he's dead, and they're coming to take him to the graveyard pretty soon."

The driver looked up and down, seemed to ponder the matter, and then he crossed to the other house. The little coffin and its burden was in the front room, and two or three old women were wiping away their tears and talking in low tones. The driver put his hand on the closed coffin and said:

"I didn't know it was his dog—I didn't know he was lame and sick. God forgive me if I made sorrow for him!"

The vehicle sent to convey the body to the cemetery drove up at that moment, and the burly big man continued:

"If he was alive I'd buy him anything he could ask. I can do nothing now but carry him softly out."

He gently took up the coffin in his stout arms and carried it out, his eyes moist and his lips quivering, and when he had placed it in the vehicle he looked up at the driver in a beseeching way and whispered:

"Drive slow; drive slow! He was a poor little lame boy!"

The driver wondered, but he moved away slowly, and the coal cartman stood in the centre of the street, and anxiously watched till he was off the cobblestones. Then as he turned to his own vehicle he said:

"I didn't mean to, but I wish he had lived to forgive me!"—[Detroit Free Press.

COULDN'T PUT UP WITH SO MUCH CHAT.

Makart, the great Viennese painter, is even more taciturn than Von Moltke, the man who is silent in seven languages. An American who had been told that the best way to get on friendly terms with the artist would be to play chess with him at the cafe to which he resorted nightly, watched his opportunity and when Makart's opponent rose slipped into his chair. At last his dream was about to be realized; he was to spend an evening in Makart's society. The painter signed to him to play, and the game began and went on with no other sound than the moving of the pieces. At last the American made the wining move and exclaimed: "Mate!" Up rose Makart in disgust and stalked out, saying angrily to a friend who asked why he left so early, "Oh, I can't stand playing with a chatterbox!"

Satin ball dresses embroidered in chenille are both elegant and expensive. The needle work is added after the dress is cut, and the general design is wreaths of flowers narrowing towards the waist. There is no trimming besides the embroidery.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

A DANGEROUS TORPOR.

Torpor or inactivity of the kidneys is seriously dangerous to those organs, since it is the precedent of diseases which destroy their substance and endanger life. The sluggishness may be overcome by stimulating them, not excessively, but moderately, an effect produced by Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, a general invigorant and alterative, possessing diuretic properties of no common order. The impetus which this admirable medicine gives to their evacuative function counteracts any tendency to congestion which may exist in their tissues. Both they and their associate organ, the bladder, are invigorated as well as gently stimulated by the Bitters, which exerts a kindred influence upon the stomach, liver and bowels, and by strengthening the system, enables it to withstand malarial epidemics, to which when exposed it might otherwise succumb. jan22-lw-n&j

This is certainly a very liberal offer. jan22-1t

CONSUMPTION CURED.

An old physician, retired from practice, having had placed in his hands by an East India missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy, for the speedy and permanent cure for consumption, bronchitis, catarrh, asthma, and all throat and lung affections, also a positive and radical cure for nervous debility and all nervous complaints, after having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellows. Actuated by this motive, and a desire to relieve human suffering, I will send, free of charge, to all who desire it, this recipe, with full directions for preparing and using in German, French, or English. JANUARY, 1879!
WITHIN the first week of the year all bills due the undersigned on January 1st, will be sent for payment. It is of much importance to him that all these bills, however small, should be paid in the early part of the month. To the select few—scattered through every social rank and all degrees of pecuniary ability—who make the payment of their obligations a point of honor, he presents thanks in advance, hoping that they may so infuse the mass of mankind with the spirit of their honorable ways that shabbiness of principle and disregard of honor and truth may disappear from the earth.

The Newport Daily News and the Newport Journal.

The Newport Daily News is published every afternoon, (Sundays excepted,) at the News building, 13 Church street, by Davis & Pitman.

The Newport Journal is published at the same office every Saturday morning, and contains a selection of the best matter in the Daily, including editorial discussions of the topics of the week, literary miscellanies and at least one good story, the latest markets, and a complete and comprehensive summary of the news,—local and general. The Journal is a large, 32 column paper, and contains a large amount of reading matter that is valuable to readers in town or country who desire a good Newport paper, but who do not take a daily from this city.

Complaints regarding the irregular or improper delivery of either paper should be sent to the office at once.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES.

The Daily News, $6 per annum, or 12 cents a week, payable to carrier.

The Newport Journal will be sent to any address in the United States, postage paid, for $2 00 a year. A discount of 50 cents is made when the WHOLE YEAR is paid STRICTLY IN ADVANCE.

These terms are invariable.

ADVERTISING RATES.

Ordinary advertisements, $1 a square, for the first insertion, and 25 cents for each continuance. Ten lines or less, in this type, make a square. Advertisements in reading matter, are charged for, at 50 per cent. extra, and are subject to editorial revision. A discount on these rates is allowed on all advertisements ordered in the daily for one week or longer. Funeral notices 50 cents each. Yearly advertisers are limited to their immediate business and are allowed twenty five changes a year. The circulations of the News and Journal being necessarily distinct, an advertisement inserted in both papers will reach entirely different sets of readers. As further inducement for advertisers to use both the News and Journal, a liberal discount on the combined rates is made.

PRINTING.

Connected with the News is a large and well appointed job printing office. All orders for work in this department will be promptly filled, and at reasonable prices The patronage of the public is respectfully solicited.

TUESDAY, JANUARY 23, 1879.

The politicians don't think much of the Southern saints if they are all like St. Martin.

It is estimated that about seven thousand persons are kerosened out of existence in this country each year.

Jeff Davis announces that he has retired from active politics. Since the petticoat scene he will probably wait until woman suffrage is established.

The Democrats are having a family jar over the Southern claims question, and the Republicans are enjoying a similar luxury over the New York nominations.

The New York Evening Mail says the feeling in Wall street, the past week, has been more like that of the old "flush times" than has been known since the panic of 1873.

Some of the Democratic papers think St. Martin the most splendid liar of all the witnesses unearthed by the Potter committee. And still there is room. Let the committee keep on.

The Boston Gazette calls for a day boat between Newport and New York. We presume the existing lines between the two cities would be perfectly willing for anybody to try the experiment.

New York city pays from $4,500,000 to $5,000,000 each year for insurance. As this is expected to be their income in 1879, the companies have a poor prospect before them as they have in the month of January alone lost about $4,000,000. Where is the money to come from for the remaining eleven month's fires?

The Boston Journal complains of the abuse of eulogy and points to the speeches made in the several state legislatures on the occasion of the election of United States Senators. It is so common in these days to abuse public men, that the Journal ought to be willing they should receive a few words of praise.

The Rev. J. D. Fulton is again in trouble. Indeed that seems to be his chronic condition and his coarseness in the Baptist minister's meeting in New York has produced great confusion and much bitter feeling. On Monday he withdrew while his associates were discussing a resolution to suspend him.

It is said our country could not get along without the tariff revenues. Take the following as an illustration. Newport has a custom house and a collector. The said collector and his aids took in $210 last year. The expense of collecting was $4,123. And this is but one case of many that might be quoted. It is true the collector has the oversight of certain lighthouses in his district but the expenses of the same are not included in the above figures.

The congressmen having passed the arrears bill are now in doubt what to do with it. No money has been appropriated to meet the enormous demands upon the treasury, and the wise men at Washington are not able to tell where it is to come from. If there were any fair share of decency left among the politicians at the capitol the bill would be modified, or repealed altogether. We have not seen as yet a single newspaper that does not condemn its provisions and denounce its enactment. If the will of the people is to be considered, the action of Congress must be reversed, as there is but one opinion on the subject among candid men. The payment of these Northern rewards is fully as bad as would be that of the Southern claims.

The Democrats set out through the Potter Committee to prove fraud in the presidential election but soon learned that it was not all on one side. The Republicans with the Teller Committee are engaged in the same work and have met with similar results. Both Committees are on worse than a fool's errand. Neither wants to find out the whole truth and when they make their reports, if ever they do, the story which they tell will amount to just nothing at all. If it were the object of these investigating committees to find out the exact truth in the interest of honest elections the case would be different, but it is not. They are mere partisan tricks, and it is a shame to waste the public money on such ignoble schemes. It will be a happy day when the present race of politicians are remanded to the rear, providing we can find a better set, which is by no means certain.

Hiram Webb, City Auditor of New Bedford, whose sickness has been reported, died on Sunday aged sixty-three years. He was born in Newport and was the son of Rev. Daniel Webb a distinguished clergyman who was for many years a preacher and school teacher in this city. Mr. Webb went to New Bedford in 1832 and held numerous positions of trust and honor in that city where he was always highly esteemed. He spent some time also in California in company with his brother Otis and was prominently connected with the famous vigilance committee which became such a terror to evil doers. He was a member of the City Council in New Bedford in 1861, and in 1873 when the office of City Auditor was established he was elected to that position, which he retained to the day of his death. He was a member of the Congregational Church and an ardent Freemason, having enjoyed the highest honors of the order. He had the confidence and respect of those who knew him both at home and abroad.

The Boston Advertiser calls attention to the fact that the speculative fever has set in with great fury since the first of January. It reasons that extraordinary abundance of money has had its effect in stimulating subscriptions to the four per cents, and the consequent calling in of five-twenties has set free immense sums of money which the owners are apparently disinclined to invest at a lower rate. They have sought for securities not, perhaps, so safe as governments, but returning a larger income, and have found them in good railroad bonds and stocks. The demand for these having increased, prices have naturally advanced, and in sympathy with that improvement other securities, many of them such as pay no interest, have also been taken up by speculators and bid up to higher figures than for months or years past. We do not mean to say that the advance has not in many cases been legitimate. Some railroads have obtained lately a large and natural increase of business. The prospect of a dividend, or of larger dividends, has grown perceptibly brighter. Moreover, inasmuch as the rate of interest obtainable for money has declined, the value of securities paying a fixed dividend has become greater. As high prices are paid today for good railroad bonds bearing six per cent. interest as were paid in 1873—also in speculative times—for the eight per cent. bonds of the same roads; and this is entirely reasonable, provided always that the interest can be, and is, regularly paid.

TRIBUTE FROM A STRANGER.

It is not with a desire to parade myself before the public but having no other way of contributing my little mite to the memory of Mr. Joseph Bradford, I offer the enclosed incident as one of the many virtues which adorned his life of Christian usefulness.

On his way to Florida in May 1873 accompanied by Mr. Benj. Bateman of this city, he passed through Richmond, Va., and while making a small purchase of the writer, who resides there, the conversation turned upon religious matters. We separated as I thought forever; he however returned in an hour, saying he left his friend at the hotel, for the purpose of privately renewing our pleasant Christian interview. Without narrating the same, suffice it to say, on his return home from Florida, to my most agreeable surprise, I received from him a check for $3000, with these words, "You are unable to secure me nor do I ask it; I look elsewhere for that, make use of it as you think best. I will rejoice more if successfully used on your account than any pecuniary benefit I may derive from it."

My gratitude and surprise can be better appreciated by my simply stating that at that time I was struggling hard against poverty, barely supporting existence, my chief comfort being the feeble love I bore for Jesus, which was the mystic bond that united the two strangers into one. Though repeatedly urged by him to accept larger means, I steadfastly declined. Three years after I desired to return the amount but he declined, desiring me to continue the use of it. I however succeeded in persuading him, while I was pecuniarily able, (finding business mishaps unseen along the path of business) to allow me to reward so good a deed as he had done for me—and remitted $6500 as the result of his investment but 3 years before—a proud moment to me.

That however was the smallest result. Let me add to this item. A happy family, children learning to call him their father's friend and bless his memory—and today, while here, to say farewell to his earthly remains. In my far-off home there are hearts bleeding from every pore for his untimely death.

It is not my province to write of his many glowing Christian virtues, that is for others more able—but I must say he never would allow me to make mention of his numerous charities. Through him many poor of my church have been made glad—and the Sunday school secured valuable acquisition in books and papers—and through him the congregation has received a member now able to be of pecuniary service to them, who settles in conjunction with one other all of the church deficiencies.

The sacredness of his family's grief will not at this time be intruded upon by referring to the endearing relations bound to our hearts by this golden link, this man of God.

While others deck his grave with flowers today, the distressed mind and grateful heart of your writer will be ever busy and wreathing immortelles around the memory of Joseph Bradford, which shall bloom with perennial beauty "on the sweet fields of Eden."

Has he not erected among us a monument more enduring than brass—the corner stone of which is deep in our hearts, its summit eternally capped with the smiles of God?

—Mr. Alfred Smith has sold to Thomas Rivolchen and wife, a lot of land bounded easterly on Thames street thirty-five feet, and southerly by land and premises of Michael Shea, one hundred feet, containing 3500 square feet. The consideration was $437 50.

MARINE.—The British schooner Clarine, New York for St. John, N. B., is here with loss of mainsail. The schooner "G. L," from Perth Amboy for New Bedford has arrived with loss of foresail and jib and the schooner Volant from the same point for Fall River with loss of foresail and jib and during the gale Saturday night lost deckload of coal. The schooner Abigail Haynes, also for New Bedford from Weehawken, is here with loss of foresail. The Samuel Dexter has returned from a cruise to the eastward.

FUNERAL OF DEACON BRADFORD.

The funeral of the late Joseph Bradford was solemnized from the United Congregational Church at noon today and was largely attended.

The services were of a very impressive nature. The Rev. H. J. Van Dyke, Jr., conducted the services. An address, eulogistic of the life and character of the deceased was delivered by the Rev. John P. Taylor, of New London, formerly pastor of the church, who was also a personal friend of the deceased. The hour at which we go to press prevents a synopsis of Mr. Taylor's excellent address. It was listened to with great interest and many were visibly affected.

There were numerous floral tributes, several pieces being ordered by telegraph by friends in distant cities.

The following gentlemen, all members of the church, were selected as bearers:

Deacon Francis Wilbor, Deacon John R. Hammett, Deacon C. E. Hammett, Deacon Samuel McAdam.

The singing was very impressive and was by the choir connected with the church assisted by members of the Central Baptist choir.

The Young Men's Christian Association attended in a body, a large number being present. Among the gentlemen from abroad were Mr. E. J. Herrick, and Mr. J. Thompson Brown of Richmond, Va.

Nearly all of the local clergy showed their respect for the deceased by their presence.

The funeral cortege was unusually large, which in addition to the great number of both sexes who followed on foot, made the procession one of the longest which has been seen in Newport for many years.

The services at the cemetery were likewise impressive, when the friends wended their way homeward with sad hearts.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT.

At a meeting of the Young Men's Christian Association on Saturday evening last the following resolutions were unanimously adopted:

WHEREAS—It has pleased our Heavenly Father, in His wise providence to remove from this life our esteemed brother Deacon Joseph Bradford, President of the Young Men's Christian Association, therefore

Resolved—That we express our affectionate regard for his memory, our reverence for his character and our appreciation of his earnest, faithful labors in the work of winning souls to Christ and that, also, we are profoundly sensible of our bereavement and the great loss to the entire Association in the removal of our brother.

Resolved—That while we deplore an event that takes away so useful a member of this community, yet we cherish the consoling faith that he has gone to reap the reward of the faithful servant, and has entered into the joy of his Lord.

Resolved—That we extend our deepest and fullest sympathies to the relatives and friends of our deceased brother in their great bereavement, praying that God may mercifully comfort and sustain them.

Resolved—That we attend his funeral in a body and that a copy of the foregoing resolutions be sent to the family and city newspapers.

S. F. HADDOCK, Secretary.

ELECTION.

At the annual election of St. Paul's Lodge, No. 14, A. F. & A. M., holden last evening, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:—

Worshipful Master—William H. Cotton.
Senior Warden—Frank E. Thompson.
Junior Warden—R. H. Tilley.
Treasurer—John D. Richardson.
Secretary—Thomas P. Peckham.
Senior Deacon—W. S. Spingler.
Junior Deacon—Andrew McMahon.
Senior Steward—R. P. Hamilton.
Junior Steward—George W. Flagg.
Marshal—Will. J. Cozzens.
Chaplain—Rev. E. H. Kettell.
Sentinel—George P. Leonard.
Musical Director—John W. Lyons.
Tyler—E. T. Maitland.

After the election the officers were duly installed by the Right Worshipful District Deputy Grand Master, Robert S. Franklin, assisted by Right Worshipful Deputy Grand Master George F. Crandall, Right Worshipful Grand Senior Warden Harley W. Pray, Right Worshipful Junior Grand Warden John Fadden and Right Worshipful Deputy Grand Marshal Overton G. Langley. The lodge is to be congratulated upon its flourishing condition and also upon the excellent selection for Master. Mr. Cotton was taken from the floor and placed in the highest office in the gift of the lodge, a compliment rarely paid to any member of the order. The lodge has prospered greatly under its master, John P. Sanborn, during the past year.

THE WHITNEY CONCERT CO.

The concert this evening by the Myron W. Whitney quartette promises to be one of rare excellence, and those who were present at their concert last season know what to expect tonight. Mr. Whitney is, without any doubt, the finest basso in the country, while Mr. Fessenden, as a tenor, has always given the utmost satisfaction.

Miss Kellogg has a very rich and remarkable voice, her high notes being remarkably clear and strong. Miss Clark's contralto is very pure and her songs are rendered with much sympathy and expression. Unless the weather should be very unfavorable, they will doubtless be greeted with a full house, which they richly deserve.

The following will be the program for the evening:

1. QUARTETTE—A Shadow.....Gollmick
   Miss Kellogg, Miss Clark, Mr. Fessenden, Mr. Whitney.
2. ARIA—From an Oratorio.....Gounod
   Mr. Fessenden.
3. STACCATO POLKA.....Mulder
   Miss Kellogg.
4. TRIO—Separazione.....Pinsuti
   Miss Kellogg, Mr. Fessenden, Mr. Whitney.
5. RECITATIVE AND ARIA—From the Enchanted Forrest.....Rhigini
   Mr. Whitney.
6. SONG—Douglass, tender and true.....Marston
   Miss Clark.
7. QUARTETTE—Humpty Dumpty.....Caldicott
   Miss Kellogg, Miss Clark, Mr. Fessenden, Mr. Whitney.
8. OLD ENGLISH BALLAD—Sally in our Alley.....Carey
   Mr. Fessenden.
9. SONGS {a. Little Jacob. (German Fairy Tales.) b. The Farmer and the Pigeons. Taubert}
   Miss Kellogg.
10. SONG—The Bell Ringers.....Wallace.
11. QUARTETTE—When Evening's Twilight.....Hatton.
    The Company.

Of the quartette composing the Whitney Concert Company, the following references are taken from exchanges:

The aria from one of Handel's Italian operas was given by Miss Kellogg with refined and tender feeling, with chaste and finished execution, and the roulades, so evenly and smoothly done, seemed not less expressive and spontaneous than the simpler melody. Never before have we heard that unique and lovely song of Schubart's, "Geheimes" (The Secret), so perfectly expressive of Goethe's verses, sung so intelligently, so tastefully, and with such delicate expression. After it was interpolated a charming song composed by Fannie Hensel, Mendelssohn's sister; and the dancing "May Song of France," hardly a minute long, was given for an encore.—Dwight's Journal of Music.

Miss Clark is a mezzo-soprano of a delicate, sympathetic cast, and as such she is always pleasing, and often touching and effective. In one of the numerous recalls she received last night, she gave 'Teddy O'Neil' in an inimitable manner.—[St. Paul Dispatch.

Mr. Fessenden is a worthy companion to Mr. Whitney. He won the distinction of receiving the only encore given during the evening, for his exquisite singing of the aria, "Then shall the righteous shine." He will be heartily welcomed should he favor us with another visit.—[Indianapolis Journal.

Mr. Whitney's reception in the 'Elijah,' at Exeter Hall, was a perfect ovation, and America has reason to be proud of such an artist.—[London Times.

READY MAID.—A school mistress had among her scholars one incorrigible little miss, upon whom "moral suasion" seemed to have no effect. One day out of all patience with some misdemeanor on the part of the child, she called her up to the desk and expostulated with her on the impropriety of her conduct, setting forth the enormity of her offences, etc. The young girl paid little or no attention at first, but at length she seemed to realize her guilt more fully, and watching her teacher closely, seemed to drink in every word she said. The lady began to have hope; her instructions were evidently making an impression. At length, she made a slight pause for breath, when up spoke the child, with eyes fixed upon her governess, and with the utmost gravity: "Why, Miss Jones, your upper jaw don't move a bit!"

SEWERAGE.

The question of sewerage for Newport is exciting undue attention, and the continual agitation of this subject in our local papers is beginning to create a wide spread impression abroad unfavorable to the sanitary condition of our city—so much so that it is said that some families were in consequence of this impression deterred from spending the last summer here and that more may be deterred from coming next season from the same cause. This "summer business" is now the main support of the city and it behooves us to look well to it that we are not misrepresented on any subject so important to our success as our sanitary condition.

People seem to have jumped to the conclusion that a new and "Thorough System of Drainage" is indispensable to the continued success of Newport as a watering place, but thus far we have failed to find any satisfactory reason given to justify such a conclusion. If it is for sanitary considerations; it is claimed that Newport has always enjoyed the reputation of being one of the healthiest cities in the world. This is indeed proved by statistics of death rates and longevity here, as compared with other cities. And when we look at our geographical position, exposed on one side to the pure breezes of the ocean, with no extent of swamps to infect the winds from the opposite direction, our temperature equalized by the influence of the Gulf Stream, our elevation above the level of the sea, with no stagnant ponds of fresh water to dry up in summer and contaminate the air with malarial germs, almost surrounded by the rising and ebbing waters of the ocean—with these and other natural advantages it is not easy to see why we should not retain in the future the high reputation we have hitherto enjoyed, unless we invite suspicion to the contrary, by such suicidal acts as the persistent and useless agitation of this "Sewerage questions" in the columns of our local papers. We say then that we do not require a new and a "Thorough System of Drainage" on sanitary grounds and least of all, such a system as any of those which have been communicated to the City Council for its adoption. We do not mean to criticise in detail these several plans, but may be allowed to say, that if it were not for the source from which they eminate, we should venture the opinion, that they were all in the main impracticable and some even visionary, and in saying this we think we echo the opinion of a large portion of our local population.

If sewers are needed, 'tis only for domestic convenience and economy—for the drainage of cellars and cesspools, and for this purpose we do not need a long submarine sewer, extending to the west of Goat Island, nor a large horizontal trunk sewer leading to the extremity of the city in any direction—"elongated cesspools" as Captain Judson in his able article on "drinking water from agricultural lands" terms them. Nor are we so hard pushed for a system as to render it necessary to poison the air on our outskirts by carting at immense cost our liquid filth to one place of common deposit, then to be taken up by evaporation and scattered again broadcast over the city, thereby doubly increasing its malarial influence and making the city liable to indictment by the neighboring towns.

We need no new system. The one now in use, that of running small sewers from South Touro street and Bellevue avenue to the head of the wharves on the west, and to the ocean on the east, is the best and the only practical plan, and withal the cheapest too. Some of these sewers are faulty in not being laid low enough for conveniently draining cellars or for submerging their outlets below tide waters, but experience proves that in other respects they answer every desired purpose.

This plan is now objected to on the plea that the sewers discharging into the inner harbor where there is no current to carry off their impurities pollute the sea water and so create disease. Indeed it has even been asserted that the discharge of the small amount of sewerage which goes or may go into the ocean on the east will so infect the town beach as to preclude bathing and destroy one of the chief attractions of the city.

This newly fledged hypothesis has been repeatedly stated but not substantiated by facts, whereas proofs of its fallacy are within the easy reach of every one who will examine these outlets and the tide water about them.

Indeed 'tis seldom that they can be found from any odor or from any discoloring of the sea water when they are submerged. Even the large sewer which empties near the Long Wharf bridge, and drains an area equal to the entire second ward or more, when submerged, as it should always be, seldom discolors the water, except when rain or melting snow carries the street washings in through the eye-holes made for the purpose of receiving surface water. The writer has made frequent examinations of these outlets, and conversed with others more familiar with them, and has never learned of any complaint against them when they have been laid low enough to be covered at all times by tide water. These simple facts ought to be conclusive proof that these outlets are utterly innocious on sanitary grounds.

The assertion too that there is no current of water in our inner harbor is equally untenable. If it be true that this inner harbor embraces an area of about a half a mile square and that the tide rises and falls about four and a half feet twice in twenty-four hours, it follows that at least four hundred and fifty million gallons of water pass from this inner harbor to the open roadstead, and is replaced by the same quantity twice in every day. The amount of our city drainage is as a drop in the bucket as compared with this immense and ever changing mass of sea water, and it is safe to say that if the drainage of the whole city of Providence were to pass through these sewers it would occasion no danger to the public health.

The fact is that few cities have better and simpler facilities for drainage than Newport, and any attempt to ignore our natural facilities, and adopt experimental devices will be like an effort to magnify a simple axiom into an abstruse problem. Our present system thoroughly completed, and all house drainage required to be sewered, unless collected in water-tight cesspools and removed by some odorless conveyance, and this stupendous problem of "A Thorough System of Drainage for Newport," which has bewildered science, and threatened to bankrupt the finances of Newport, resolves itself into a simple problem whose solution is self-indicated.

HENRY BULL.

WHAT OTHERS THINK OF IT.

In a long article on the revision of the city ordinances which appears in the Boston Sunday Herald we find the following in relation to the policemen's fees:—

In the future the policemen will be obliged to turn in all the money which they receive in the shape of rewards, witness and warrant fees, etc., and receive a receipt for the same from the city treasurer, and this, too, under oath, before they receive their monthly pay. This restriction, it is thought by many, will not tend to the good of the city, for it will be the means of placing the real, live men of the force on a par with those who scarcely ever make an arrest, or who are incapable of "working up a case," and who only carry out the letter of the law in performing their duty. There are on the police force a number of energetic officers, who are good detectives, and who, if they do receive extra pay for their work, reflect credit upon the city. The pay of the police is but $2 a day. It is not to be supposed that they are going to take as much interest in their business as heretofore and criminals will be apt to escape punishment. Some reform was needed, but it is thought that the restrictions are two sweeping, and will be productive of no prospective good. The officers are debarred from keeping rewards offered by private persons. Rewards are frequently offered, and no one thinks of working to secure them save the police force. The sum of $30 is always offered by Uncle Sam for deserters from Fort Adams and now this welcome sum is to turned over to the City Treasurer by the officer who is fortunate enough to make the arrest.

WELL EARNED HONORS.

Under the above head the New York Herald of Saturday has the following to say in reference to Miss Ida Lewis's appointment as lighthouse keeper at the Lime Rocks:

The gruffest opponent of women's rights cannot help rejoicing at the appointment of Miss Ida Lewis to the keepership of the Lime Rock light. This lady, whose clear head, stout arms and great heart have rescued strong men from watery graves, has for years been assisting her father and mother, who were successively the keepers of the light; but her merits fully deserve the special public recognition conveyed by the appointment and the increased salary attaching to it. No money or fame can compensate a person for risking his life to save that of another, but unselfish deeds of daring are so rare that whatever tokens of appreciation are within the public gift should be heartily and openly bestowed, particularly when the recipients are of that sex which the civilized world by common consent exempts from out-of-door risks. Through all the years in which her skill and bravery have made her prominent Miss Lewis has been noted for that shrinking modesty that characterizes all true heroes, but neither her own reserve nor her secluded home can save her from the hearty good wishes which the announcement of her appointment will call forth from every American home that is visited by a newspaper.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER
ABSOLUTELY PURE.
The Royal Baking Powder is a pure Cream of Tartar powder, made from pure Grape Cream Tartar, imported exclusively for this powder direct from the wine district of France. An old experienced housekeeper writes that, although she has to pay a few pennies more for the "Royal," finds that it goes much farther and works much better than saleratus, soda, or cream of tartar.
☞ Most of the Cream of Tartar of commerce is adulterated with Alum, Terra Alba, etc. Doctors pronounce Alum most dangerous to health; its costs but 2c. a pound, Cream of Tartar over 30c. The Royal Baking Powder is recommended for its wholesomeness by such eminent chemists as Dr. Mott, New York: Dr. S. Dana Hayes, Boston. Sold only in cans. All Grocers.
☞ BAKING POWDER should never be sold in paper packages, as it becomes stale and deteriorates upon exposure to the atmosphere.

STEAM HEATING.

THE GAS LIGHT COMPANY have added to their Gas Fitting Department the business of heating buildings by steam. The cost of steam apparatus has hitherto proved a bar to its general introduction; but at present, ordinary houses can be fitted with steam appliances for a small advance on the cost of a furnace. The superior healthfulness of steam heat, its admirable distribution, economy of fuel, and perfect self-regulation are points in its favor, which far outweigh the consideration of a small additional expense for the apparatus. Parties building, or desiring to change their mode of heating, are invited to apply at the office of the company, and obtain estimates of cost. Cellars too low to admit a furnace can have our boiler set up in them.

MORTGAGEE'S SALE.

Real Estate in Tiverton, R. I.

By EDWIN F. HAMBLY, Mortgagee.

To Daniel Grinnell of Tiverton, in the county of Newport and state of Rhode Island, and to all other parties whom this may concern:

By virtue of a power of sale contained in a certain mortgage deed given to me by the said Grinnell, dated August 14th, 1876, and recorded in Town Clerk's office, Registry of Deeds, Tiverton, R. I., in Book 26, pages 363 365, and for breach of the condition of said mortgage deed,

I shall offer for sale at public auction on the premises on Thursday, the Thirteenth day of February, A. D, 1879, at two o'clock in the afternoon, the following described premises, to wit: a certain lot or parcel of land with all the buildings and improvements thereon situated on the Stafford road "so called" in said Tiverton, and bounded and described as follows, viz: North, by land of one Louis Lapham; east by land of said Lapham; south by land of Samuel Cory, and west by said Stafford Road, said parcel containing about seven (7) acres more or less.

Terms made known at time and place of sale,

JOHN D. READ,
ja21-1aw-3waf11-12-13 Mortgagee.

IN BANKRUPTCY.

ASSIGNEE'S SALE

—AT—

PUBLIC AUCTION!

THE UNDERSIGNED, assignee in Bankruptcy of the estate of Andrew Robeson, of the town of Tiverton, in the District of Rhode Island, will sell at public auction at the office of Green & Son, Auctioneers, No 33 Bedford Street, in the city of Fall River, in the commonwealth of Massachusetts, on Thursday, Jan. 30th, 1879, at 11 o'clock A. M, the sloop keel yacht "Tahoma," formerly the property of Andrew Robeson, bankrupt. She is about 20 feet long, over all, 9 feet 5 inches beam, 3 feet 9 inches draft, full rigging and sails, and in fair order. She has three light sails, an awning, skiff, &c., and was built by Herreshoff in 1871. She is now hauled up for the winter in the town of Tiverton, at Tiverton Station, in the County of Newport and State and District of Rhode Island. All persons are invited to examine the yacht, and can do so on application to John Cranston, of said town of Tiverton,

EDWARD O. AMES,
Assignee in Bankruptcy of the Estate of Andrew Robeson. jan2-eodts

MORTGAGEE'S SALE.

By virtue of power of sale, contained in a certain mortgage deed, made and executed on the fifth day of October, A. D 1874, by Margaret G. Drew of Boston, of the county of Suffolk and Commonwealth of Massachusetts, to Lucius D. Davis, which mortgage is recorded with the Land Evidence of Newport, in Book No. 7, pages 282 etc., and which was assigned by the said Lucius D. Davis, to the late George Popple, late of Newport, deceased:

I will sell at public auction on the premises in Jamestown, on Saturday, the eight day of February, 1879, at 12 o'clock noon, all of the right, title and interest, which the said Margaret G. Drew, had in and to that certain parcel of land, situate in that part of Jamestown, known as Conanicut Park, being lots numbered (13) thirteen, (14) fourteen and (15) fifteen, on a plat or the said Park, made by John H Mullin, and on file in the office of the town clerk of the town of Jamestown, with all of the buildings and improvements on the said lots. The condition of said mortgage deed having been broken. The undersigned hereby gives notice to all persons interested in the equity of redemption of the above described premises, that the heirs at law of the said George Popple, or some one of them intend to bid at the sale thereof.

JOHN M. POPPLE,
Administrator of the estate which was of George Popple. jan16

MORTGAGEE'S SALE.

By virtue of a power of sale contained in a certain mortgage deed, made and executed by Joseph E. Weaver and Abby D. Weaver, his wife, in the right of said Abby D., to Lucius D. Davis, dated October 29, 1872, and recorded in Volume 9, at pages 518 and 519, of the Mortgage Land Evidence of Newport, in the state of Rhode Island, (the condition of said mortgage having been broken) said mortgagee will sell at public auction, on the premises hereinafter described, on Tuesday, February 4th, A. D. 1879, at eleven o'clock in the forenoon, all the right, title and interest which said Joseph B. Weaver and Abby D. Weaver had, at the time of the execution of said mortgage, in and to the estate and property hereinafter described to wit:

That certain lot of land with the buildings and improvements thereon, situated in said Newport, and bounded as follows, to wit: Northerly, by land now or formerly of L. E. U. Smith, one hundred and twenty-three (123) feet; easterly, by land of Mrs. Goffe, sixty (60) feet; southerly, on the lot occupied by All Saints' Chapel so-called; and westerly, by Cottage Street, sixty (60) feet, be the same more or less, or however otherwise bounded and described, said mortgagee hereby gives notice that he intends to bid upon said property at said sale thereof.

UNDER THE VIOLETS.

BY OLIVER WENDELL HOLMES.

Her hands are cold; her face is white;
No more her pulses come and go;
Her eyes are shut to life and light;
Fold the white vesture, snow on snow;
And lay her where the violets blow.

But not beneath a graven stone,
To plead for tears with alien eyes;
A slander cross of wood alone
Shall say that here a maiden lies
In peace beneath the peaceful skies.

And gray old trees of hugest limb
Shall wheel their circling shadows round
To make the scorching sunlight dim,
That drink the greenness from the ground,
And drop their dead leaves on her mound.

When o'er their boughs the squirrels run,
And through their leaves the robins call,
And, ripening in the Autumn sun,
The acorns and the chestnuts fall,
Doubt not that she will heed them all.

For her the morning choir shall sing
Its matins from the branches high;
And every minstrel voice of Spring,
That thrills beneath the April sky,
Shall greet her with its earliest cry.

When turning round their dial track,
Eastward the lengthening shadows pass,
Her little mourners, clad in black,
The crickets sliding through the grass,
Shall pipe for her an evening mass.

At last the rootlets of the trees
Shall find the prison where she lies,
And hear the buried dust they seize
In leaves and blossoms to the skies;
So may the soul that warmed it rise!

If any, born of kindlier blood,
Should ask "What maiden lies below?"
Say only this: "A tender bud,
That tried to blossom in the snow,
Lies withered where the violets blow."

SUNDRIES.

The birthplace of Burns—the kerosene can.

Hush money—The money paid to a baby's nurse.

How to produce a telling effect—Communicate a secret to a woman.

The beauty of a man's parting his hair in the middle is that it gives both ears an equal chance to flap.

"Who was Luke's mother?" asks a correspondent. She was a Mammuluke, of course. —[Cincinnati Saturday Night.

A clock keeps its hands before its face, probably because it is ashamed of the cowardly manner in which Time flies.—[Oakland (Cal.) Mirror.

Which is the sleepiest letter, and which at the same time is most likely to make a noise in the world? The topid O, of course. —[Boston Transcript.

"George, dear, don't you think it rather extravagant of you to eat butter with that delicious jam?" "No, love, economical; same piece of bread does for both."

Music may have charms to soothe the savage, but a double-barreled shot-gun does the business a good deal quicker, and at about half the expense.—[Elmira Gazette.

What city in France is a man about to visit when he goes to get married? He is going to Havre (have her). An old bachelor being asked the question promptly replied, "To Rouen" (ruin).

A well-known clergyman, on being accused of leaning toward Universalism, replied that he hoped everybody would go to heaven, "and," said he, "there are some people I wish were there now!"

When a man, going home to dinner, sees a carpet on a line in the back yard, he regards it as an off-shore "cautionary signal," and sneaks down town and buys a soda-cracker lunch at the corner grocery.

"Be ever ready to acknowledge a favor," says a writer. We are, sir; we are. What troubles us is that on one side we are completely loaded down with readiness, while on the other side opportunity is painfully scarce.

A young man courted a girl named Mattie Brown, but after her father died her mother married a man whom the young chap did not fancy, so he left Mat and married another girl. He said he could adore Mat but he couldn't go a step farther. He felt as if he could thresh old fellows like him.—[Toronto Gossiper.

A Milford man, stupefied by drink and cold, was found near the New Haven rolling mill, the other night, and was taken in and resuscitated amid the lurid glare of the molten iron and the din of the machinery. As he slowly came to, and was asked where he belonged, he looked about him in a frightened manner, and replied: "Well, when I was on earth I lived in Milford."

A SILENT WOMAN.

In a popular novel a woman is introduced who, being mortally offended, declared she would never speak again. Critics pronounced the incident unnatural and impossible. It was neither, for here we have the fact on which the incident was founded.

Madame Riginer, the wife of a law officer at Versailles, dropping some remarks which were out of place, though not important, her husband reprimanded her before the company, saying, "Silence, madame, you are a fool!"

The lady immediately subsided. She lived twenty or thirty years afterwards, and never uttered a single word to anybody, not even to her children. A pretended theft was committed in her presence, in the hope of taking her by surprise, but with no effect, nothing could induce her to speak. When her consent was requisite to the marriage of any of her children she bowed her head and signed the contract, and even when she died merely sighed "adieu."

INSURANCE

AGAINST LOSS BY FIRE

CAUSED BY

ACCIDENT, INCENDIARISM, LIGHTNING,

Or any Other Cause,

I REPRESENT the oldest company in America, and also the largest company in the United States, together with other standard American and European institutions. The Ætna of Hartford alone has paid over $45,000,000 in losses, and has now $7,000,000 assets in hand.

Insurance in such companies, with ample means, and an established reputation for fair dealing, is worth much more than in any of the numerous wranglings that totter along for a while and then go down. About fifty such companies have failed during the last year, and as many others are on the way to ruin.

The rates in these first-class companies are no higher than in the small and doubtful concerns.

Farm property taken very low for three or five years.

All losses settled at this office. For terms call on, or address by mail the undersigned at the office of this paper. L. D. DAVIS.

BENSON'S CAPCINE POROUS PLASTER!

FOR WOMEN & CHILDREN.

Females suffering from pain and weakness will derive great comfort and strength from the use of Benson's Capcine Porous Plaster. Where children are affected with whooping cough, ordinary coughs or colds or weak lungs, it is the sure and only treatment they should receive. This article contains new medicinal elements such as is found in no other remedy in the same form. It is far superior to common porous plasters, liniments, electrical appliances and other external remedies. It relieves pain at once, strengthens and cures where other plasters will not even relieve. For Lame and Weak Back, Rheumatism, Kidney disease and all local aches and pains it is also the best known remedy. Ask for Benson's Capcine Plaster and take no other. Sold by all druggists. PENNSYLVANIA

RAILROAD.

Great Through Line

AND

UNITED STATES MAIL ROUTE.

The attention of the traveling public is respectfully invited to some of the merits of this great highway, in the confident assertion and belief that no other line can offer equal inducements as a route of through travel. In stands confessedly at the head of American railways. The track is double the entire length of the line, of steel rails laid on heavy oak ties, which are embedded in a foundation of rock ballast eighteen inches in depth. All bridges are of iron or stone, and built upon the most approved plans. Its passenger cars, while eminently safe and substantial, are at the same time models of comfort and elegance.

CONSTRUCTION AND EQUIPMENT

PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD

The Safety Appliances

in use on this line well illustrate the far-seeing and liberal policy of its management, in accordance with which the utility only of an improvement and not its cost has been the question of consideration. Among many may be noticed

THE BLOCK SYSTEM of SAFETY SIGNALS,

Janney Coupler Buffer and Platform,

THE WHARTON PATENT SWITCH,

AND THE

WESTINGHOUSE AIR-BRAKE,

forming in conjunction with a perfect double track and road-bed a combination of safeguards against accidents which have rendered them practically impossible.

PULLMAN PALACE CARS

Are run on all Express Trains

From New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, and Washington,

To Chicago, Cincinnati, Louisville, Indianapolis, and St. Louis, and to all principal points in the far West and South with but once change of cars. Connections are made in Union Depots, and are assured to all important points.

WITHOUT CHANGE

The Scenery

OF THE

PENNSYLVANIA ROUTE

is admitted to be unsurpassed in the world for grand, beauty, and variety. Superior refreshment facilities are provided. Employees are courteous and attentive, and it is an inevitable result that a trip by the Pennsylvania Railroad must form
